TO REGISTER

Fill out and return the attached card, or call our Registrar (212) 586-8100. Registration must be made in advance, and may be made up to the time of the program, subject to confirmation.

Hotel Accommodations — The Professional Institute does not arrange hotel accommodations. However, the hotel where your program is scheduled will hold a limited number of rooms for registrants up to two weeks before your program starts. To take advantage of this service, act promptly. Contact the hotel directly for reservations, mentioning PI to assure preferred treatment. If the hotel is offering special government rates, be sure to ask for them.

Registration Fees — The full fee includes the cost of all meeting materials. Individual fees are only $85 for the 1-day program.

PI's Cancellation Policy — In fairness to all registrants, it is necessary for us to make an assessment of $25 when a registrant cancels fewer than 7-days prior to the program. You will appreciate that "late cancellation" in our limited-attendance programs not only deprives other registrants of attendance, but can force cancellation of the entire program.

When a registrant fails to attend a program without prior notice of cancellation, he or she is responsible for the entire tuition fee.

We are confident that you will recognize the necessity of this policy and will cooperate fully in its implementation.

How to work a longer day in fewer hours

...without working any harder

Time Management for Government Administrators

Program Outline

- Introduction: Why Budget Time?
Is time a problem?
What is the real nature of the problem?
What benefits will you realize?
What are the costs?
- A Measurement Method
A Time Diary simplified
How to keep a record of your time
- Time Evaluation
What are the important things you do?
Ranking time on the basis of application
- Evaluation of time application (cost-benefit analysis of time usage)
Quantifying your time usage for evaluation and possible revision
- Supervisory Time and Work Measurement
Helping subordinates budget time
Tips for avoiding organizational "time wasters"

This is an intensive course in personal productivity — a day that may affect the rest of your career.

You'll learn how to use an ingenious "Time Diary," originally developed by anthropologists to study other cultures. You'll see how it can help you analyze your own activities — quickly and easily. So you can find out exactly what you do with your day, both at work and at home.

- Who's coming to see you and where you're going
- How much time you really spend on routine paperwork, planning, supervision, fending off crises
- How much of your day is truly yours.

Where does all that time go?

You'll see how to make the most of your diary when you're back on the job the next morning. So you can use it immediately — to spot any of the hundreds of activities that may be frittering away your day.

Save time now

In the next step you'll learn to decide what's worth spending your time on and what could be eliminated — when you're working to meet your goals and when you're just treading water.

You'll gain minutes and hours in every area of your day from your morning coffee to your last phone call to your nightcap before bed.

You'll learn new habits

Finally we'll show you how to make time budgeting a habit on the job or in your personal life. How you can consolidate your free time into large blocks — to give you uninterrupted hours instead of 10-minute segments.

How you can improve your own personal organization — so you'll be the one who's controlling your day.

The complimentary book you'll receive

What one reviewer said about it

"Mackenzie doesn't give a sugar coated formula . . . his ideas are practical, and with a conscientious effort his suggestions should provide some productive new work habits. This is a great book and one I plan to scan periodically as a reminder. . ."

TWO OTHER PROGRAMS IN THE FOR GOVERNMENT ADMINISTRATORS SERIES FROM THE GOVERNMENT DIVISION OF AMA'S PROFESSIONAL INSTITUTE

Management for Government Administrators

Offered regularly in cities throughout the country for its third year now, this popular 2½-day program has attracted nearly 3,000 participants. It is an overview of the management process for the practitioner. It offers you and your administrators management ideas that work in the public sector. You'll see why they work and you'll learn how to apply them to your own organization. You'll examine new ways to —

- set realistic goals, objectives and standards of performance
  - use performance appraisal constructively
  - assess your own effectiveness as a manager and leader
  - improve the personal productivity of each administrator — as well as the productivity of your entire organization
  - and you'll learn more about yourself in the process.
- For more information call Ms. Inez Vicuna (212) 586-8100. Call collect.

Project Management for Government Administrators

Offered in six cities across the country for the first time this fall, this 2-day program meets a real need. Everyone in the public sector manages projects. This program offers participants practical information on the organizational, behavioral and technical aspects of accomplishing project results on time within the budget available.

- Participants are exposed to the practical skills of:
    - organizing the project — large or small
    - developing a realistic schedule
    - managing the implementation
    - forecasting when to bring in resources
    - keeping the entire effort under control
- For more information call Ms. Inez Vicuna (212) 586-8100. Call collect.

The Government Division also offers In-house management and organizational development services

An organizational specialist will help you analyze your needs and design a training program — or an entire developmental series — with measurable outcomes and definite timetables.

Here are just a few of the training programs we can bring you: Time Management; Team Planning; Performance Standards and Appraisal; Leadership Style and Self-Directed Change; Project Management; and a wide range of other management and organizational development services. For more information call Ms. Inez Vicuna (212) 586-8100. Call collect.
