TO REGISTER

Fill out and return the attached card, or call our Registrar (212) 586-8100. Registration must be made in advance, and may be made up to the time of the program, subject to confirmation.

Hotel Accommodations — The Professional Institute does not arrange hotel accommodations. However, the hotel where your program is scheduled will hold a limited number of rooms for registrants up to two weeks before your program starts. To take advantage of this service, act promptly. Contact the hotel directly for reservations, mentioning PI to assure preferred treatment. If the hotel is offering special government rates, be sure to ask for them.

Registration Fees — The full fee includes the cost of all meeting materials. Individual fees are only $85 for the 1-day program.

PI's Cancellation Policy — In fairness to all registrants, it is necessary for us to make an assessment of $25 when a registrant cancels fewer than 7-days prior to the program. You will appreciate that "late cancellation" in our limited-attendance programs not only deprives other registrants of attendance, but can force cancellation of the entire program.

When a registrant fails to attend a program without prior notice of cancellation, he or she is responsible for the entire tuition fee.

We are confident that you will recognize the necessity of this policy and will cooperate fully in its implementation.

Program Leader:

Donald D. Curtis

Mr. Curtis has had wide and varied experience in the field of management education.

Now an independent consultant, Mr. Curtis was most recently a member of the faculty of the University of Virginia, teaching at the Graduate School of Business Administration and serving as Director of the University's Advanced Management Program for the U.S. Postal Service.

Time Management for Government Administrators

Program Outline

- Introduction: Why Budget Time?
 - Is time a problem?
 - What is the real nature of the problem?
 - What benefits will you realize?
 - What are the costs?
- A Practice exercise in recording daily time usage and assessing its implications
- Time Evaluation
 - What are the important things you do?
 - Ranking time on the basis of application
- Evaluation of time application (cost-benefit analysis of time usage)
 - Quantifying your time usage for evaluation and possible revision
- Supervisory Time and Work Measurement
 - Helping subordinates budget time
 - Tips for avoiding organizational "time wasters"
- A Measurement Method
 - A Time Diary simplified
 - How to keep a record of your time

This is an intensive course in personal productivity — a day that may affect the rest of your career.

You'll learn how to use an ingenious "Time Diary," originally developed by anthropologists to study other cultures. You'll see how it can help you analyze your own activities — quickly and easily. So you can find out exactly what you do with your day, both at work and at home.

- Who's coming to see you and where you're going
- How much time you really spend on routine paperwork, planning, supervision, fending off crises
- How much of your day is truly yours.

Where does all that time go?

You'll see how to make the most of your diary when you're back on the job the next morning. So you can use it immediately — to spot any of the hundreds of activities that may be frittering away your day.

Save time now

In the next step you'll learn to decide what's worth spending your time on and what could be eliminated — when you're working to meet your goals and when you're just treading water.

You'll gain minutes and hours in every area of your day from your morning coffee to your last phone call to your nightcap before bed.

You'll learn new habits

Finally we'll show you how to make time budgeting a habit on the job or in your personal life. How you can consolidate your free time into large blocks — to give you uninterrupted hours instead of 10-minute segments.

How you can improve your own personal organization — so you'll be the one who's controlling your day.
